

LIVOS for stairs and floors

Stairs and floors

...are among the most stressed elements in interior rooms (indoors). The treatment and care of stairs and floors must be adjusted to the high impacts which their surfaces are exposed to - and of course the treatment has to meet the requirements of the particular performance of the surfaces.

Wooden floors create a warm and cozy atmosphere. Natural oils and waxes of LIVOS refresh and preserve their natural charm. At the same time they leave an antistatic film on the surface which reduces the dust exposure.

For all types of surfaces, LIVOS also offers special neutral products. They have the distinction of being odorless and are composed of especially selected raw materials. Therefore they meet basically all the requirements of those who are sensitive to odors or suffering from allergies. However, surfaces treated with LIVOS neutral are slightly less resilient than surfaces treated with LIVOS classic and require a little bit more care and maintenance. Please ask for detailed information and care instructions.

On the reverse side you will find an overview of the LIVOS products especially suited for the treatment of stairs and floors and a summary of their application range.
